Master's Level Prerequisites and Transfer Credit Policy

The program requires 6 graduate-level courses as prerequisites to the program. It is the program's policy not to accept additional transfer courses. The required courses are Human Growth and Personality Development; Psychological Assessment; Psychopathology; Research Methods and Advanced Statistics; Counseling Theories; and Group Counseling. Fifteen credits are completed by students through required courses in their master's programs and transferred into the Psy.D. program. Although a three-credit course in Group Counseling is a prerequisite to the program, it is not accepted as a transfer course.

Students must complete a Transfer Evaluation and Substitution Form (Appendix A) prior to enrollment in the Psy.D. Program. Syllabi for the 6 graduate-level courses being transferred must be provided to the Director of the Program, unless these courses were completed at Saint Elizabeth University. Together, the Director of the Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology Program and the Director of the Doctoral Program review the materials and evaluate the courses for content, level, and mastery (i.e., as evidenced by a grade of B or above). For example, if an applicant submits a syllabus intended to fulfill the Counseling Theories prerequisite, the directors review the syllabus to ensure that counseling theories are in fact adequately covered at a Master's level in the required text and journal readings, as well as in assignments and in-class discussions. If so, the Psy.D. Program Director will allow that particular course to fulfill the Counseling Theories prerequisite. If an applicant does not have one or more required Master's level prerequisites, the applicant may be admitted to the program on the condition that the required prerequisites are taken during the summer before the applicant's first year or during the first year of the applicant's doctoral studies. The applicant will be permitted to take up to two prerequisite Master's courses in the first year of the doctoral program.

Exceptions to the prerequisite policy may be considered in the following cases:

- If an applicant does not have one or more of the Master's level prerequisite courses, but has significant professional experience in the topic area (e.g. Group Counseling).
- If an applicant has completed one or more Master's level prerequisite courses with a grade below a B.

The Director and Associate Director will review such cases based on the applicant's statement of goals and curriculum vitae and an interview to gain a detailed understanding of the applicant's experience. A decision will then be reached as to whether professional experience is a suitable substitute for the prerequisite course(s) or grade(s).
